TEAMSTERS COUNCIL ASKS ARBITRATION

Resolutions Asking Parties Directly Concerned in Strike to Arbitrate Their Differences Passed by Vote of 45 to 20.

SECRET ARMISTICE IS DECLARED

CHICAGO, May 15.—The Chicago city council late tonight after a spirited meeting passed a resolution authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee of five aldermen who shall urge upon the parties to the teamsters strike the advisability of submitting the questions at issue to arbitration. The vote on the adoption of the resolution was 45 to 20. It was opposed by several aldermen who declared that there was nothing in the strike that admitted of arbitration.

CHICAGO, May 15.—A practical armistice in the teamsters strike was declared tonight to last until the officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters meet here on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

At a meeting of the teamsters joint council held tonight to reconsider the action of Saturday night when it was decided to refuse the demand of the Team Owners associations that deliveries be made to houses where strikes exist, the members of the council reaffirmed their stand and decided that they could not accede to the demands of the association. It was known to members of the latter organization that this action would be taken and that the proceeding was of a perfunctory character, it having been agreed that the matter should await the arrival of the national officers of the teamsters union.

Lumbermen Take Action.

The Lumbermen's association tonight passed a resolution calling on the teamsters to define their position as to what might be expected when the lumber firms of the city called on them to make deliveries. The association declared that it was in favor of making deliveries irrespective of the strike and announced that drivers who refused to deliver goods as ordered would be discharged. The lumber concerns represented at the meeting employ 1,200 teamsters and a strike of these would mean great embarrassment to the building operations in the city. It is not expected, however, that the Lumbermen's association will push matters until after the officers of the national organization of teamsters has handed down its decision. If that body refuses to sanction the delivery to the boycotted firms the lumber men will at once order deliveries and the large team owners will do likewise, with the result of adding to the ranks of the strikers about 9,000 men.

ASTOR'S BODY FOR STANFORD

MRS. STANFORD'S JEWELS TO BE SOLD AND PROCEEDS ADDED TO ENDOWMENT FUND.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 15.—The corner stone of the $300,000 library building at Stanford university was laid today with impressive ceremonies.

A hitherto unpublished address to the students by the late Mrs. Stanford was read. In it she makes an unexpected endowment to be raised by the sale of her private jewels which are estimated to be worth $1,000,000. The income from this fund will be sufficient to purchase about 200,000 volumes for the library each year.

MAN KILLS FOUR PEOPLE AND TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Armed With Rifle, Revolver and Dirk, Which He Used With Deadly Dexterity---Nihilist Terrifies California Town.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 15.—Armed with rifle, revolver and dirk, each of which he used with deadly dexterity, a madman ran amuck in this city today, killing two men, a boy and a woman, wounding two other persons, and finally blowing off the top of his own head and dying within a few minutes.

Three of the victims lived in the same house with the slayer. The fourth person whom he killed and the two who were wounded resided half a mile away and it was in their house that the maniac took his own life.

Nihilist and Drunkard.

The man who enacted this ghastly tragedy was W. P. Robinson, about 40 years of age, of powerful build and some education. The precise causes which led him to wholesale murder may never be ascertained. It is known, however, that he was a heavy drinker, that he was intensely interested in the Nihilist movement in Russia and that against two or three of his victims he avowed that he had some petty grievance. On the other hand he is said to have been ordinarily a good natured man and inclined to be generous, and one of the last persons likely to take life. The general supposition is that drink and brooding over Nihilism brought on an attack of homicidal mania.

List of the Dead.

Four of those killed met almost instant death. The dead are:

WILLIAM STEWART.
MRS. EMMA STEWART.
H. W. CHASE.
HARRY DODDRIDGE.
W. P. ROBINSON.

Wounded—W. H. Doddridge and wife.

Late this afternoon it was thought that Mrs. Doddridge's wound would prove fatal. The bullet ranged downward and lodged in her left thigh.

Mrs. Stewart, it is said by persons who knew her, was separated from her husband, who is believed to be living in Denver. Chase, it develops, was married and his wife is thought to be in Reno, Nevada, at the present time.

Young Stewart was not only stabbed twice, but was shot in the heart with the rifle.

It is now stated that Robinson had been heard to make threats against Doddridge. The latter, it is said, had once been engaged in an attempt to have him shanghaied when he was a sailor. It is said also that he had expressed a dislike for the Stewarts.

RAILROAD MEN'S STRIKE ENDED

Employes of the Colorado & Southern Railway Take Back Their Jobs.

Employes of the Colorado & Southern Railroad company, who participated in the street-grabbing episode last Saturday at midnight, were found guilty and fined by Police Judge A. P. Toombs yesterday. Commercial Agent J. H. Springer was found guilty upon two charges and fined $50 and costs upon each, making a total of about $110. Roadmaster Daniel Orr, of the Santa Fe company, who was working under the direction of the Colorado & Southern officials, was found guilty upon one count and fined $50 and costs, amounting in about $[illegible]. Foreman W. E. Neice was likewise assessed $50 and costs, while I. P. Cooper, the private sleuth, was taxed $25 and costs upon one count. Forty-nine section men were found guilty and fined $5 and costs. In other words the total bill which the city presented to the representatives of the railroad amounted to $4[illegible]. An appeal was taken.

The trial of the men who attempted to take possession of a part of South Sahwatch avenue in the interest of the Colorado & Southern Railroad company, was one of the most interesting and hard-fought cases that has been tried in the municipal court for a long time. The session of the court was held in the city council chamber.

Chief of Police Adams, the first witness called by the city, told of the arrest of the men and their release under bond. Police Captain S. S. Stewart, who had charge of the arrangements for the raid, went into details of the affair as has already been published. He identified several of the men under arrest and told of the work done upon city property. City Detective Chas. E. Shaft and Patrolman C. A. McIntyre gave an account of the operations as they saw them, and Miss Caroline Bane, chief operator of the Colorado Telephone company, testified to receiving a request from Mr. Springer to have one of the company's poles removed from the corner of the alley in rear of the Houston Lumber company's warehouse. Miss Bane turned in the request to the construction department and the pole was removed. The city then called Roadmaster Daniel Orr to the stand, but he was not allowed to testify to anything beyond the fact that he was in the city Sunday morning.

The employes of the Colorado & Southern company were defended by Attorneys Willcox and Carpenter, of the firm of Lunt, Brooks & Willcox, and by Attorney J. S. McMurray, of the firm of Lines and Whitted of Denver. Judge Ira Harris appeared on behalf of Private Detective Cooper, and Judge W. C. Robinson prosecuted on behalf of the city.

Upon hearing the decision of the court in the cases, counsel for the defense at once gave notice of appeal, and the case will be carried to the county court at the earliest possible moment. The case against Yardmaster McIntosh, charged with blocking the street, went over by agreement.

RUSSIA AUTHORIZES LARGE BOND ISSUE

ST PETERSBURG, May 15.—An imperial decree is published authorizing the issue of $100,000,000 of short term bonds, $75,000,000 of which has already been placed.

SANTA FE ROAD SPENDING A MILLION DOLLARS REPAIRING WASHOUTS IN THE SOUTH AND WEST.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 15.—With more than 600 extra men at work in the territory affected by recent washouts on the Santa Fe, the Arizona desert presents a scene of unusual activity. Today for the first time in weeks the Santa Fe overland was reported on time in Los Angeles, with other trains arriving only a few minutes late.

About 100 miles of track are included in the flood districts, beginning 12 miles this side of Albuquerque. In the work in progress the course of rivers is being changed and new steel bridges are replacing the old structures of wood that were landed high and dry by the floods. Many bridges are being lengthened and a large amount of riprap is being constructed. It is said that more than hundreds of entirely new road will have been constructed by the time the work is completed and will have cost more than $1,000,000.

COUNT IS RECEIVED WITH MUCH CEREMONY.

TANGIER, May 15.—Count von Tattenbach-Ashold, the head of the German mission, to arrange a special commercial treaty between Germany and Morocco, arrived at Fez on May 11, where he was received with much ceremony.

PROPOSED UNION MEETS OPPOSITION

UNION BETWEEN THE UNITED BRETHREN AND CONGREGATIONAL AND METHODIST CHURCHES OPPOSED.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 15.—The contest of the United Brethren church for the inauguration of a union with the Congregational and Methodist Protestant churches was commenced tonight at the United Brethren general conference. Dr. L. S. Cornell read the letter to churches recommending the union.

Dr. Washington Gladden, moderator of the Congregational council, and Dr. A. S. Stephens, president of the Kansas City university, speaking for the Congregational and Methodist Protestant churches, respectively, urged the adoption of the report. Much opposition came up. The friends of the proposition forced an adjournment until tomorrow morning when the matter will be fought out in the general conference session. The conservative element of the church is opposing union with the other churches. The friends of the proposition are in the minority. It has already been adopted by the Congregational and Methodist Protestant churches.

MAJOR DAVIS RETURNS.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Major General W. Davis, the retiring governor of the canal zone, accompanied by his two daughters, arrived tonight on the steamer Alliancia from Panama.

WORLD'S MARKETS

May Compete in Furnishing Materials for Panama Canal.

LOCAL PROJECTS

THAT WILL BE NEEDED ARE NOT AS CHEAP AS THOSE OF EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.—PROTEST EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The executive committee of the Isthmian canal commission today decided to purchase in the markets of the world the materials and ships necessary for the building of the Panama canal.

This important decision was reached with some reluctance, because it was appreciated by Secretary Taft and the executive committee that there would surely be a great outcry from the great interests in this country. The prices of material and the ship owners, if the purchases were not limited to the American product. But it was decided that the money consideration was so great that it could not be ignored, for it was held that in some cases duty 30 per cent would be charged for material needed in canal construction than the same goods could be purchased for in Europe.

Chief Engineer Wallace for instance showed that two ships, in addition to the ones running between New York and Colon, and owned by the Panama railroad, were absolutely necessary to carry the food supply and material needed for the work. No American ship could be brought to any reasonable price, and when it came to building such ships it was found, according to Secretary Taft's statement, that while he can buy two 2,000-ton ships in Europe for $750,000, it would cost $1,400,000 to build such ships here. And in addition, while the European ships could be had at once it would take at least 18 months to secure American boats.

As to material needed for canal construction the committee decided that by reserving to itself the right to purchase in the world's markets it would at least oblige American manufacturers to give them the benefit of the foreign prices if they wish to sell goods to the committee.

Secretary Taft explained that he felt obliged to indorse this decision because having every opportunity to give a contrary decision, he felt that the very terms of the canal act provided that it should be constructed at the lowest possible cost.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN ASSOCIATED PRESS MAN

CHICAGO, May 15.—Walter Neef, European manager of the Associated Press whose death in Liverpool was announced this morning, entered the service of the Associated Press in Chicago and his entire newspaper experience was in its offices. He became connected with the organization in 1875 and was for 15 years connected with the Chicago office. In 1890 he went to London as manager of the European service.

"VEILED MURDERESS" WAS THE WIFE OF SIR WALTER F. ELLIOTT, AN ENGLISHMAN OF RANK.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The veil of mystery which for more than half a century hid the identity of "The Veiled Murderess" who died in prison at Mattewan, N. Y., yesterday, has been lifted by the hand of Mrs. Charlotte P. Norris, 1426 Newport avenue, Chicago. The so-called "Veiled Murderess" was a classmate of Mrs. Norris at the famous Willard school at Troy, N. Y., sixty years ago.

The maiden name of the woman, who was a PEER IN THE [illegible] since her arrest for murder in 1853, was Charlotte Ward. She married an Englishman of rank, Sir Walter F. Elliott, but left him soon after the marriage. She came back to America to rob the house of her father, a wealthy Canadian merchant, shot against her.

Mrs. Norris, though under no obligation so to do, has kept her knowledge of the identity of the woman a secret through all the years since her arrest and conviction on the charge of killing Timothy Lanigan and Catherine Lubes in Troy, N. Y., 52 years ago.

The Chicago woman went to Sing Sing prison more than 50 years ago to see Lady Willard, then a prisoner at that institution. She was with her for an hour. When Mrs. Norris came from her talk with the woman convict the prison authorities begged her to tell them who their charge was. She declined knowing that her old school mate did not then wish her identity known.

SEVEN YACHTS IN TODAY'S RACE

CUP OFFERED BY GERMAN EMPEROR AND SEVERAL OTHER VALUABLE PRIZES TO BE GIVEN THE WINNERS.

NEW YORK, May 15.—With the incentive of a valuable cup and three other prizes offered by the German emperor, eleven large sailing yachts of various rigs and representing three nations assembled in the inner harbor today, fully prepared for the start tomorrow of a race across the north Atlantic. Eight of the contestants are vessels owned in this country, two are from England and Germany has one representative.

A representative of Emperor William assisted by a committee of American yachtsmen will start the fleet at 2 o'clock tomorrow off the Sandy Hook lightship, ten miles out of this harbor. The finish will be at The Lizard, more than 3,000 miles away where a German war vessel will note the winner.

TWO CHARGES OF FELONY AGAINST FORMER COLLECTOR

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Two charges of felony were today entered against former Tax Collector E. J. Smith who was arrested in St. Louis and reached here today, in the custody of officers. District Attorney Byington says that the case of Smith will be presented for early trial.

RUSSIAN FLEET NOW NORTH OF BAY

French Officials Deny Report to the Effect That Rojestvensky Has Returned to Indo-China Waters to Evade Japanese Fleet.

JAPAN MAY NOT PRESS PROTEST

PARIS, May 15.—In regard to the press dispatches saying the Russian fleet has returned to Honkohe bay, the French officials say they are positive the Russians are not within French waters. The officials are not aware of the exact locality of the fleet but continue in relations with the French naval and civil authorities in Indo-China satisfy the officials here that the Russians remain outside of French limits.

It is maintained that the fleet is off Honkohe bay, which does not constitute a breach of neutrality so long as the ships remain on the high seas, and the officials add that French surveillance assures the Russian fleet remaining beyond the French three-mile limit.

LONDON, May 15.—At the foreign office today the Associated Press learned that Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has made no further representation to the French government regarding the continued stay of the Russian fleet in Cochin-China waters.

No Rupture of Peace.

No alarm is felt in government circles here that Japan will press her protest so far as to produce a rupture of peace, but it is fully recognized that Japan has the power to bring her ally into conflict by a hostile act. Therefore the British government, the Associated Press understands, is using every effort to keep the Japanese cool and at the same time urging on France the necessity of respecting neutrality in which Great Britain agrees in principle with Japan.

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister here, said to the Associated Press that he was positive that if France sent a definite demand to St. Petersburg, Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky would not remain in French waters 24 hours. Minister Hayashi characterized as absurd the French charges that Japan intended ultimately to attempt to annex Cochin-China. He applied a like characterization to similar statements in the United States regarding the Philippines.

"Korea, Manchuria and other territory nearer Japan," said the minister, "are more desirable than Cochin-China, but I repeat, the Japanese have no territorial ambition. Japan is large enough for us. We are simply fighting for national existence."

LONDON, May 15.—The dispatch to the Associated Press from Saigon stating that the Russian fleet had sailed northward from the vicinity of Honkohe bay early in the morning of May 14 is the latest news available in London regarding the movements of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky.

A dispatch from Hong-kong to the Daily Mail says that Hamilton King, American minister at Pensalok, who is a passenger on the steamer Pingyanlok, states that on May 11 the steamer passed 14 Russian warships, 24 miles north of Kamranh bay. According to the Daily Telegraph correspondent at Tokio during a great storm several days ago the Japanese converted cruiser Nekko was damaged by striking a reef off Fusan.

The same correspondent says that during the last month the Russian warships consumed 120,000 tons of coal and adds that where it was obtained is a mystery.

The correspondent further says that it has been ascertained that the Russian fleet established a wireless station on French territory and communicated with St. Petersburg by way of Saigon.

A Norwegian steamer, the Telegraph's correspondent says, reports having heard cannonading on May 13 north of Saigon and that a Japanese torpedo boat was seen running in that direction.

CROKER'S DEATH CAUSES DEAN BROTHERS TO ASK ANALYSIS

Believes Death Resulted From Excessive Use of Tobacco, Liquor and Opium, but Friends Will Continue to Investigate the Case.

KANSAS CITY, May 15.—Richard Croker, Jr., and J. Rogge, of New York, his traveling companion, taking the body of Herbert V. Croker, who died on a Santa Fe train near Newton, Kas., Friday morning, left on a Wabash train at 6:15 o'clock tonight for New York. They had spent the day here and Mr. Croker made a partial investigation of the circumstances surrounding his brother's death. He left convinced that it was due to the excessive use of tobacco and liquor and the use of opium.

Excessive Stimulants Did It.

"It is all mighty hard," Mr. Croker said. "I came to Kansas City intending to have an autopsy performed; in fact arranged for one after my arrival. But a talk with physicians convinced me it would be useless. It was the old story of excessive stimulants. I believe that his heart simply gave way. When my brother Frank was killed in the automobile accident Herbert had a violent attack of nervous trouble which affected his heart. He went to bed and physicians worked over him. He rallied from this and seemed to be strong and we believed his visit to Oklahoma would build up his physical condition. I think it would have helped him if he had never reached there.

Will [illegible]

"The hardest thing to realize is that Herbert [illegible] died in the [illegible] of opium. We [illegible] heard of it, and dreaded it. Herbert had no [illegible] habits of that [illegible]. He was an [illegible] drinker, [illegible] did he use [illegible] a lot of cigarettes. [illegible] with his visit to Kansas City which to me are not clear. I have [illegible] there who will keep [illegible] up these circumstances and I have asked the chief of police to do [illegible].

"I wish you would deny far [illegible] that story about Herbert [illegible] some while at the Oklahoma ranch. I don't remember what her name was; I never heard of her. The name is entirely foreign to our household."

Mr. Croker was referring to Miss Toinette Horton, of Horton, N. Y., who asserted she was to be married to Herbert Croker in about two weeks.

When Mr. Croker was asked concerning a check Herbert is said to have cashed in Detroit and which was repudiated at the bank and later protested by a friend, he answered:

"I hardly think it probable that a check signed by Herbert would be repudiated by any bank."

STREET COMMISSIONER SAYS WATERSON'S [illegible]

NEW YORK, May 15.—Somewhat to the astonishment of those present at the monthly dinner tonight of the Phi Delta Phi club, an organization of men in the Justice Vernon M. Davis of the supreme court of the state of New York, who was the guest of honor, gave his opinion as to the guilt of Nan Patterson, while making an argument in defense of Assistant District Attorney Rand, who had prosecuted the young woman at her first trial for the murder of Caesar Young.

Justice Davis, who presided at the first trial of the former chorus girl, said that she had lied from beginning to end and that she was responsible for the death of Young. Miss Patterson had pleaded self-defense, claiming that Young was shot accidentally in a struggle for the pistol at the same time with the death of Young.

Reporters Asked to Leave.

In the middle of the Justice's remarks the reporters were asked to leave the room but before they had reached the door they were called back by the speaker, who said that he left it to their discretion as to just what parts of his speech were to be used.

"We have had a good deal in the public press of late of severe criticism of Mr. Rand and his conduct of the trial," said the justice. "You can't prosecute a criminal without telling what you believe to be the truth. In [illegible] before me the defense [illegible] the stand and it was quite clear that the was telling false [illegible] to evade [illegible] the truth. The story [illegible] was [illegible] with the fact that she was lying. Yet [illegible] the public should [illegible] that she was [illegible] to keep that secret.

"[illegible] Young was shot [illegible] the struggle for the pistol went off and the man was killed. I believe, moreover, that had she told the story on the witness stand as it really happened, in other words, had she told the truth, that a jury would have acquitted her."

BUFFALO BILL WILL SUE AGAIN FOR DIVORCE

SHERIDAN, Wyo., May 15.—Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) today filed in the district court a motion for a new trial of his divorce suit.

[illegible] SPLIT ON [illegible]

The aldermen had their fighting clothes on when they gathered at the city hall last evening for the regular session of the city council. Instead of proceeding to the council chamber for the transaction of business they were directed to the office of Mayor Hall for a caucus. For over three hours charges and counter-charges flew back and forth, fingers were shaken under the noses of certain dignified councilmen. The demeanor of the members of the council when they entered the chamber showed something of the exciting time which had been in progress in the mayor's private office.

The trouble, and there was plenty of it, was due to the clash in the street department between Street Commissioner A. W. Grey and the street committee of the city council composed of Alderman Holden, chairman, Albin and McCaffery, as to who had the appointment of the commissioner's assistant and the men under him. It has always been the custom in the street department to give the preference in employing men to residents and taxpayers of this city, and this custom the street committee is determined to follow. But this does not appear to be the desire of the new street commissioner.

Commissioner Grey has appointed Mr. Richmond his assistant and is determined to stand by him, and Mayor Hall, it is understood, supports Mr. Grey. As the mayor has the appointing of the street commissioner, it therefore, appears that the fight is really between the mayor and the council. At all events it is charged that Mr. Richmond has not applied to the council for the position of assistant superintendent for the reason that he is not a taxpayer, not a voter and can hardly be called a resident of the city. It is urged by the aldermen that Mr. Richmond is not even experienced in the art or science of building roads, and the city has no qualifications especially fitting him for the position. Mr. Richmond, it is contended, is a bookkeeper by trade and came to the city [illegible] months ago. He drove a wagon for the Colorado Springs Steam Laundry, and in that capacity acquired a fair knowledge of the condition of the streets but this was forgotten when he went to Albuquerque and engaged in the business of picking ties for the railroad. When he again returned to this city a short time ago he returned to work for a laundry and then was given charge of a gang of men working in the Monument Valley park. And this, it is alleged, is the sole qualification which Mr. Richmond possesses for the position of assistant street supervisor.

Mr. Grey was called into the caucus and openly charged that the aldermen were seeking to use his department to provide positions in payment of political debts and he flatly refused to put up with anything of the kind. After three warm hours, the caucus finally appointed a committee to call upon Mr. Grey and see if some agreement could not be reached by [illegible] of Colorado Springs might be [illegible] that this [illegible] aldermanic [illegible] ing.

KANSAS WON BIG COLLEGE WATER SPORTS TODAY

Interesting Game of Ball Given by Interstate Teams Yesterday---Tigers Are Not Outclassed by the Sunflower Players.

Kansas university yesterday afternoon won the first of its Colorado series of baseball games by defeating Colorado college on Washburn field by the score of 8 to 3. The Jayhawkers outplayed the Tigers, who still showed the effects of the hard game of Saturday.

Kansas bunched her hits and the Tigers bunched their errors. The Tigers got 10 hits and the Jayhawkers 11, and the latter were able to get theirs when needed. Errors for the Tigers were costly, four of the visitors' runs being directly due to errors on the part of Tyler and Tegtmeyer.

Hester began the game for Colorado college but showed that his arm had not recovered from Saturday's hard game with the Aggies, allowing six hits and five runs in the first three innings. Tyler replaced him and pitched a good game, though the Kansans hit him freely, still they got only five safe hits.

Mitchell, the college backstop, played a star game. He not only caught a good game but got four hits out of four times at bat. Two of these were good for three bases and one was a three-bagger. Both outfields played a strong and accurate game.

The run-getting started in the second. Wilson doubled and scored on Bailey's single to left field. Bailey reached third on Woodford's single and Bailey and Woodford scored on Tegtmeyer's error. In the next inning, with two out, Royer tripled. Young reached first when Tyler threw wild, scoring Royer. Young scored on Wilson's triple. For the Tigers, Johnston singled and scored on Mitchell's triple.

In the sixth Woodford drew free transportation and reached second on Tegtmeyer's error which placed Brookin on first. Both advanced a base on Gillett's out. Woodford scored on Sexton's single and Brookin came in on Johnston's single. The Tigers scored two in the eighth. Mitchell tripled and scored on Tyler's two-bagger. Tyler came in when Hester tried to stretch his double into a three-base hit and was out at third.

The last tally was made in the ninth when Johnston of the Jayhawkers singled and reached third on Royer's single. Tyler threw over second, scoring Johnston.

The two teams play their second game today. Hester will probably open the game in the box for the Tigers, with Tyler in reserve. The battery of the Jayhawkers will be reversed, Captain Royer doing the slab work and Frost catching. The game begins at 3:15 o'clock.

TIGERS HITTING WON THE GAME

COLORADO SPRINGS BASEBALL TEAM TOOK ANOTHER GAME FROM CHAMBERLAIN'S SAINTS.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 15.—Opportune hitting won today's game for Colorado Springs. With the exception of the ninth inning Finley held steady and worked out of several bad holes.

The game was snappy from the outset. Zinram, for St. Joseph, led off with a clean double to left field and went to third on a passed ball. Douglass hit over Mellor and drove Zinram home.

Blake in the fifth was the first visitor to draw a single. He went to second on a wild pitch and Lindsey brought in the first run with a pretty single to right field.

A hit by Delehanty followed by another by Knabe brought in another in the eighth.

A hit off Lindsey in the ninth, a sacrifice and a pass to first on McKean's bad fumble placed Lindsey in a bad hole and a score seemed certain. Zinram drew a pass, filling the bases. With one down Fleming fouled out and the next batsman retired the side by flying out to Blake. The score

TRIAL OF LOOMIS-BOWEN ISSUES HAS BEEN STARTED

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The formal trial of the issues between Acting Secretary Loomis and Minister Bowen began today when Mr. Bowen presented himself at the White house. He had sent a card last night to the president and followed it this morning by appearing in person at the White house where he was immediately received by the president, who told him as he had come in answer to his summons he would be pleased to have the minister call at once on Secretary Taft. Mr. Bowen accordingly went to the war department and spent a short time in conversation with the secretary.

Status of the Case.

The status of the case is officially explained as follows.

Saturday night Acting Secretary Loomis notified Secretary Taft that he had completed the preparation of his answer to the various allegations concerning himself. Minister Bowen had been careful to explain to Secretary Taft that those were not his charges, that he merely transmitted them for the information of the department. Secretary Taft requested Mr. Loomis, in view of the lateness of the hour to defer the submission of his answer until the following day.

Accordingly, Sunday morning Mr. Loomis waited on Secretary Taft and submitted his answer with accompanying documents bearing upon the subject. Secretary Taft went over these with care and then told the president of their contents. It was then agreed that Secretary Taft should undertake to arrange the matter for presentation to the president.

So, when Mr. Bowen called on Mr. Taft today the latter turned over to him Mr. Loomis' answer to the charges and Mr. Loomis' counter charges against Minister Bowen in the effect that he had instigated the circulation of confounded reports against his superior officer involving malfeasance in office. The secretary advised Mr. Bowen to prepare at once his answer. Mr. Bowen returned at once to his hotel and began his task.

CONDITIONS AT SNYDER, OKLA., GRADUALLY GROWING BETTER

SNYDER, Okla., May 15.—No deaths occurred today among the patients at the hospitals here although no hopes are entertained for the recovery of two of them. It was determined that no more should be sent away and a temporary hospital has been erected for their treatment. Physicians and nurses continue to arrive from other towns, to supply the places of those who, worn out by the hard work, are leaving daily.

The total number of deaths, according to the best estimate obtainable, is 87, although a statement was issued by the press committee yesterday which places the total at 103. The lack of records accounts for this discrepancy in figures.

A large force of men is employed in repairing and building, being paid out of the funds supplied by cash donations. Food and clothing are plentiful and today the relief committee announced that no more of these are needed at present. The committee is still receiving remittances of money and this is being applied to providing shelter for homeless and caring for the injured. Several of the latter have been unconscious since the disaster and physicians express the opinion that even in case of physical recovery they will not fully regain their reason.

A small boy, living near the junction, testified that the two held had been hanging around the Howard branch tool house for the last week and that the overheard them talking about breaking in. The two men deny having seen each other before.

The last of the wrecked cars was put on the track this afternoon. No signs of the two passengers said to be missing was discovered.

PLAN STREET FAIR DURING WEEK JULY 17

Appointments to Fire Department Made and Approved by City Council---Patrolmen Also Approved. Routine Business.

The Colorado Springs Social and Driving club, in a communication to the city council last night, announced that the organization was arranging for a street fair to be held in this city during the week beginning July 17. The club has secured the permission from the Stratton estate to use the half block of ground between Pike's Peak and Colorado avenues and Huerfano street, and asks that the club be allowed to use a portion of the sidewalks and streets, and also that the city donate to them the usual license. On motion the request was granted subject to such restrictions as the street committee may decide.

H. T. O'Brien made application for a license for five carriages and 75 burros and ponies to be kept at his stand in the Cheyenne canon, and the matter was referred to the committee on public grounds for investigation.

A petition was presented from the employes of the Portland mill urging the city to repair the Bear creek road and bridge, which is almost impassable. As the council is already working upon the repairing of the road and bridge, the petition was merely filed.

The city clerk then read the list of appointments made by the mayor to the regular police force, as heretofore published in the Gazette, and on motion all of the appointments were confirmed.

The list of special officers was read and approved as follows: Jos. Frampton, A. T. Pooley, Ed Meisalin, Wm. Jones, W. J. Lucas, John W. Chapman, T. J. Armstrong, C. Stansbury, Ed McCabe, W. H. McDermitt, D. S. Duff and C. J. Tiffany.

Appointments to the city fire department were then read and approved as follows: Assistant Chief, B. B. McReynolds; captains, C. L. Heasoner, M. C. Donahue, W. G. Radtke; engineer, S. C. Cook; lineman, James M. Fleming; firemen, D. W. Dozier, W. F. Esch, G. A. May, A. G. Elstun, G. A. Whitenack, John Skinner, W. T. Lorrain, Samuel Dawson, W. F. Ripperteau, W. J. Lightner, Edwin G. Wells, Charles S. Georgia, substitute, H. A. Bashan; fire warden, John Courier.

A resolution was introduced and adopted granting permission to General W. J. Palmer to construct and maintain a bridle trail through the Cheyenne park to the summit of Cutler mountain.

Alderman Hosman, from the health commission, reported a resolution which had been adopted by the commission to the effect that all carpet cleaning establishments in the city are a nuisance and that they must cease work within the city limits not later than Wednesday, May 17, 1905. A petition was also presented signed by about 250 residents of East Kiowa street and the vicinity near the Santa Fe depot, urging the council to abate the nuisance.

Menace to Health.

Attorney H. C. Laing addressed the council on behalf of the carpet-cleaning establishments that section and urged that more time be granted. Alderman Hosman opposed the granting of additional time, pointing out that the health commissioner had declared it to be a menace to the public health. Dr. Hanford explained the position of the health board in the matter, and said that the question had come up before the old council. He referred to the cleaning establishment in the rear of 121 North Cascade avenue as having been the cause of many complaints being made to his office and pointed out the dangers of contamination from the dust in the carpets. He had inspectors serve notices upon all three institutions engaged in the business to the effect that they must cease operations within the city limits by May 17.

Mayor Hall addressed the council urging that the move was a proper one, that it was not necessary for the council to adopt the resolution, as it had already been adopted and was in operation by the health commission. This announcement took a load off the shoulders of the aldermen and they gladly passed the matter without further action.

A petition from 50 citizens urging that the automobile ordinance be changed so as to make the penalty lighter and the speed a little faster than under the present ordinance, was presented and referred to the ordinance committee.

On the matter of the compilation of the city ordinances, Alderman Verner moved that the committee on ordinances be given full power to act, and after much discussion the motion was carried.

Blanket Bond.

The bonds, known as the blanket bonds, was presented by Chairman Tucker of the finance committee. The bonds were signed by R. W. Chisholm and Arthur Cornforth, attorneys in fact, for the Title Guaranty and Trust company of Scranton, Pa. The bonds were accepted subject to the approval of the city attorney as to form.

Alderman Tucker from the finance committee recommended that a warrant for $10,000 be drawn in favor of Clough & Anderson in full settlement of all claims for work done at the Seven lakes and St. John tunnel, and the motion was agreed to.

The purchase of lot 1, Harrison's subdivision, from Wm. Jackson, for the purpose of opening Audley place, for the sum of $475 by the city, was reported by Chairman Tucker of the finance committee, and on motion a warrant was ordered drawn for the amount.

Alderman Seldomridge introduced an ordinance concerning automobiles and regulating their speed within the city limits, which under the rules was referred to the ordinance committee.

Bills amounting to $13,180.55 were read and allowed.

On motion of Alderman Seldomridge a warrant was ordered drawn for $60 making a total paid to Prof. J. W. Scott of $250 for damages sustained by the breaking of a 6-inch water main on East San Miguel street.

The bill of Patrick Lee & Son for $105 for fertilizer for use at the cemetery as per contract was ordered paid. Council adjourned to meet at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

DETAILS OF THE PROGRAM FOR ROCK ISLAND DEMONSTRATION

WILL PAY COLORADO SPRINGS A SHORT VISIT THIS MORNING.

THEIR TRIP IS CONSIDERED SIGNIFICANT IN CONNECTION WITH RUMORS OF EXTENSIONS.

Today will see the five greatest men of the Rock Island system in Colorado Springs. The party, which consists of Benjamin Winchell, president; Daniel G. Reid, chairman of the executive board; A. E. Mudge, second vice president; J. C. Biddle, third vice president, and W. H. Moore, director, will arrive from Pueblo in President Winchell's private car at the D. & R. G. depot at 11:15 o'clock this morning and will leave for Denver about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The railroad men will be met at the depot by W. W. Wood, the local Rock Island agent, Henry Russell Wray, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and others. Mr. Wray is a personal friend of President Winchell and will likely remain with the party during its brief visit in this city. The railroad chiefs will inspect the city office of the road at the corner of Pike's Peak and Cascade avenues and may take a short drive about the city.

The visit of the Rock Island men to Colorado at this time has given rise to a rumor that the Rock Island system contemplates extending its road to the Pacific coast and that the Colorado & Southern will be a link of the great system when its extension plans are completed. One fact which seems to bear out this rumor is that the itinerary of the officials is from New Orleans to Galveston, Galveston to Fort Worth, Fort Worth to Denver, while the route mapped out for the new Yoakum-Hawley Colorado & Southern railway will be the same. This coincidence has given rise to the rumor that the Rock Island will include the Colorado & Southern and the Colorado & Southern, New Orleans and Pacific railways in its extension from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific coast and it is understood that the magnates are coming to Colorado for three purposes:

1. To complete plans for the extension of the Colorado & Southern to the Gulf of Mexico and to the Pacific coast.
2. To acquire the Colorado Eastern and insure a direct entrance for the Rock Island into Denver from the east.
3. To complete arrangements for the making of a $100,000,000 bond issue for the Colorado & Southern.

The outcome of the trip to Colorado will be of great interest to the Centennial state and will be anxiously watched by local railroad men.

MRS. W. C. FROST RE-ELECTED REGENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF ZEBULON PIKE CHAPTER, D. A. R., WAS HELD YESTERDAY—REPORTS SUBMITTED.

Officers of the Zebulon Pike Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for 1905-1906: Regent, Mrs. Walter C. Frost; vice regent, Mrs. M. Clement Gile; recording secretary, Mrs. Clarence C. Hamlin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Strieby; treasurer, Mrs. Edwin A. Sawyer; registrar, Mrs. William K. Argo; historian, Mrs. Asa T. Jones; auditor, Miss M. E. Church. Directors—Mrs. J. F. Humphrey, Mrs. A. T. Gunnell, Mrs. E. W. Kent.

The annual meeting of the Zebulon Pike chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of the regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Cass Goddard, 808 North Cascade avenue.

Interesting reports were presented by the general officers showing efficient work accomplished by the organization, and the annual election was then held.

The secretary, Mrs. Robert B. Beeson, stated that every meeting had been held according to program, except the January one which was given up on account of the death of Mrs. Blackmer. Three social meetings had been held with an average attendance of 23.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Edward W. Kent, showed a balance in the treasury of $150.95.

Mrs. William K. Argo, registrar, reported a total membership of 85.

The report of the regent, Mrs. Goddard, although brief, was comprehensive, and was as follows:

Mrs. Goddard's Report.

"The report of a regent who has so signally failed in her duties must necessarily be brief. When I accepted the position I hoped that I might give much time to the demands of the office.

"But circumstances over which I had no control necessitated my absence from the city for some weeks, and I am glad to pay this tribute to the fidelity and zeal of the members of the chapter, who, under the efficient leadership of the vice regent, and stimulated by the interesting work of the program committee, have shown their loyalty to the organization.

"The details of the work of the winter have been given to you in the reports of the various officers, and by them you realize that we have not failed in any of our obligations.

"The state organization has been established upon a surer basis by the rules and provisions adopted at the state conference. This action insures unity of purpose and binds together the separate chapters of the state so that more effective work may be done.

"We have parted with regret from Mrs. Fairbanks, as president general. Her charming personality and exquisite tact had full play in presiding over a body of 50,000 women and it is to be hoped that Mrs. McLean will exhibit the same qualities that endeared her predecessor to so many of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"I thank you for the patience and courtesy which has always marked your relations toward me and trust that the same loyalty will be given to the new officers so that the coming year may be the most profitable and prosperous in the history of the Zebulon Pike chapter.

"In closing allow me to impress upon each one present the responsibility resting upon her to preserve the spirit of the days of '76, and to uphold the principles of a pure and patriotic citizenship for which our brave ancestors fought and upon which the foundations of this republic rest; free from self-seeking, from narrow partisanship, impervious to the demands of unprincipled politicians that were not true to their word and faithful to their pledges.

"Such were the men who won our freedom, and we shall be faithless indeed if we do not live up to the standard set us and demand that the men whom we choose for responsible positions maintain the same high plane of honorable obligation."

Mrs. Frost, chairman of the program committee, reported that the program for 1905-1906 would be the study of the history of the "Lone Star State." After taking the chair, Mrs. Frost appointed on the program committee for 1905-1907 Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, chairman, Mrs. F. E. Brooks, Mrs. E. B. Beeson.

Motion prevailed that the custom be continued of offering a prize for patriotic essays to the pupils of the High school and the school for the deaf and blind. The prize has usually been the "Life of Washington," by H. Cabot Lodge.

After slight discussion, the motion was carried that instead of a year book, the chapter issue a leaflet containing the list of officers and new members. Also, that the secretary procure the new volumes of the lineage book.

On account of press of other matters it was the sentiment that the meeting of June 17 be omitted, but Mrs. Goddard particularly requested that the Daughters of the American Revolution display their flags.

During the social hour which concluded the afternoon, the hostess served tea, coffee and ices, from tables patriotic in device, in the reception hall and dining room. The assortments were all profusely decked in flags.

AMUSEMENTS

RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF THE EASTERN FOUNTAIN CO

Commencing Wednesday night the Eastern Marie Fountain company will return to the Opera house for an engagement of four nights and two matinees. This company made such a favorable impression during their previous engagement that their return will be welcomed by our theater-goers. For the opening of their return engagement the company has selected the sensational comedy drama, "For Love and Honor." The piece has not been produced here before but where it has been given elsewhere has always met with universal approval.

The drama demands a strong cast and the talented members of this company are seen at their best.

A number of new specialties will also be given, Baby Lestre especially appearing in a decidedly new and novel one.

THE EMPIRE THEATER.

This week's bill at the Empire is so well arranged and so completely clever that every act flies so fast that you are surprised when the performance is over.

First on the bill is the sister team of Kendall & Thompson doing a musical turn which is most popular. They first wake you up with a grand concert melody march, then put you to sleep with the beautiful southern melodies and finally end with one of the ole time feature pieces such as "Dixie" and other pieces.

Next come unheralded the club swing team of Dell & Fonda who do an act which is a most pleasant revelation to every one.

James and Maude Ryan have a large line of goods and are delivering them just as the orders come in. The week promises great applause for this act.

Cora Johnson is singing with all the sweetness and beauty of which we have known, and with a better song will be a feature of the bill.

The moving pictures are also a feature of the performance. Most everyone, young or old, has heard of the famous holdup of this stage in the pioneer days of Colorado and many of the citizens of this city remember that last summer the famous photographer, Mr. Buckwalter, spent several days here procuring scenes which were really a part of the real holdup as represented by participants of the holdup.

It pays to do business generously. The proof: Schilling's Best. Full-strength and pure, and the prices only enough to pay for the quality.

NAT GOODWIN DELIGHTS A SPLENDID AUDIENCE

The same old Nat Goodwin appeared at the Opera house last night in one of the same old plays, "An American Citizen," and both were highly pleasing to the large audience. Some of the eastern critics have been saying unkind things about Goodwin of late; that he is on the downhill path, losing his grip, etc. It would be unfair to base such assertions as these on his work last night, for it was neither better nor worse than the average of his performances given in this city. But he delighted the audience because he was the same old Nat Goodwin, with all the little mannerisms that distinguish him from rivals and imitators.

The play is familiar to theatergoers. It was written for Mr. Goodwin by Madame Lucette Ryley, and the fact that it has stood the test of a half-dozen or more seasons of intermittent playing proves its worth. It has the element of vicarious sacrifice common to at least two of the other plays in which this actor has been seen in recent years, "When We Were Twenty-one," and "The Altar of Friendship," and in other ways it bears some resemblance to them.

Miss Ruth Mackay as Beatrice Carew has the leading female part. Except for a lack of grace in carriage she is a woman of fine appearance and with a fair degree of dramatic ability. In marked contrast is Miss Flora Parker as Georgia, winsome, pretty and clever. The best work in the male parts is done by Mr. Fred Tyler as Barbury and Mr. Neil O'Brien as Sims, the valet.

DAFFY DAPHNE.

Tonight at the Opera house the Cap and Bells club presents their original comic opera, Daffy Daphne. The seats will be on sale all day at the box office in the Opera house and it is expected that there will be a large audience of friends of Colorado college to witness the performance.

The boys have drilled faithfully for the past four weeks and the management feels no hesitancy in assuring a bright, snappy show full of bright jokes and tuneful music. The cast is as follows:

Daphne Jones-Smythe, F. S. Morse.
Mr. Jones-Smythe, a wealthy western widower, father of Daphne, Chester Arge.
Mlle Coquette, matron of Queenston school, J. L. Doane.
The Promising Promoter, a fakir, Warren Curtier.
Elise, Daphne's cousin, A. E. Middlesworth.
Miss Nouveau, a scholar, Paul West.
Fragmondas, the dog, E. H. Howbert.
Adare Devil, Daphne's affinity, G. H. Gilbert.
The Medicine Man, William Lenpox.
The Maids of Queenston School and cowboy girls are: Wilbur Hancock, Abner Middlesworth, Paul West, Earl Stotts, John Fiske, Frank Smith, Henry Moore, Walter Buchanan, John Dunham.
The Kingston Boys: Indians and Cowboys are: Clay Simpson, Charles Loveall, Samuel Redding, Charles Howell, George Tyler, Carl Blackman, Earl Hoover.

THE FEDERAL BUILDING.

IT IS gratifying news that bids for the construction of the new Federal building in Colorado Springs are immediately to be advertised for. It means that the structure for which the people have waited so long is at last about to become a reality. Of course there will be further delays—there always are in the construction of Government buildings—but the letting of the contract will bring the structure one step nearer reality, and even this is something to feel grateful for.

It is fully four years since the lots at the southeast corner of Pike's Peak and Nevada avenues were cleared in anticipation of their sale to the government for this purpose, and about two years since the sale was made. The Federal authorities got a bargain—there is no question of that, for nowhere else in the city is there such a desirable site, and it is doubtful whether any other property owner would have made the concessions in price which were made by Mr. Stratton. But he was shrewd enough to realize that such a building would greatly enhance the value of his adjacent property, and it was definitely to his interest to make the sale.

Part of the delay in letting the contract has been due to the insufficiency of the first appropriation. So far Congress has appropriated $175,500 including the cost of the site, which was $35,000. This leaves only $140,000 for the completion of the building, an amount believed to be inadequate to consider the rapid growth of Colorado Springs and the increasing demands made on its postoffice. For this reason Congressman Brooks has attempted to secure an additional appropriation of $50,000 and thinks if the bill did not get through the last session it will probably be passed by the next Congress.

This will add another to the already long list of splendid public buildings in Colorado Springs. It is doubtful whether any other city in the West of equal size can point to so many fine structures of a public or semi-public nature. Among the more notable are the Antlers, the Court House, City Hall, Palmer Hall, Mining Exchange, Y. M. C. A. building and Public Library. To this list might be added two or three other college buildings, particularly Cobern Library and Perkins Art Hall. The Federal building will be a worthy addition to these, especially if the additional appropriation is secured.

SILLY ANTI-CIGARETTE LAWS.

IT WILL be interesting to see what happens to the Indiana and Wisconsin anti-cigarette laws when they get into the higher courts. We venture the guess that the provisions which make it a misdemeanor for anyone to smoke cigarettes or to have cigarettes or cigarette tobacco or papers in his possession will be promptly declared invalid.

Very few sensible people deny that cigarette smoking is highly injurious to anybody, and ten times so to children. Most of the states very properly have laws prohibiting the sale to minors of the "coffin nails," or of the materials to make them, but the Solons of Indiana and Wisconsin, in their excessive zeal, have rather overstepped the mark. The sale or giving away of cigarettes, cigarette paper or tobacco to either minors or adults is prohibited. Moreover, the statute forbids anyone to smoke cigarettes or to have the papers or tobacco in his possession.

This is carrying paternalism to the limit. It is one thing to regulate or forbid the sale of such things as liquors, narcotics, opium, etc., and quite another to pass a law forbidding any man to use them. So far as we are aware the most radical temperance reformer has never advocated such an absurdity as penalizing drinking. A man might bring whiskey into any temperance town in the country and drink it with impunity, but now if a man brings a cigarette into Indiana or Wisconsin he is liable to arrest for smoking it or even for having it in his possession.

The legislatures of the two states are to be commended for attempting to prohibit the manufacture or sale of the deadly paper rolls, but their more radical legislation has simply laid them open to ridicule and defeat. It is inconceivable that a court of last resort could be found that would sustain their silly denial of the right of any man to smoke a cigarette or have one in his possession whenever he pleased.

FRANCE PLAYING WITH FIRE.

THE Japanese indictment of France for violating the neutrality laws grows more serious every day, and apparently the patience of the Nippon government is being strained almost to the breaking point. Unless the situation is relieved by the immediate and final departure of the Russian fleets from French waters it is difficult to see how it can end in any other way than the embroilment of France in the war, which of course would mean that England would be dragged into it also.

Tokio claims to have positive information that Rojestvensky's fleet, after leaving Honkohe Bay on May 8, reentered the bay soon after and stayed there until Sunday morning, the 14th instant. If this is true it means that the Russian ships remained in French waters continuously for six days, which is five days longer than they had a right to stay under the provisions of international law as generally interpreted by the Powers. Time and again the French government has disclaimed any intention of wrongdoing and has publicly announced that the Russian fleet must leave. But in spite of these protestations the Russian fleet stays indefinitely, and the culpability of the French can no longer be overlooked. It seems to be a plain case of helping a friend in any way possible.

The Associated Press dispatches yesterday contained an interesting statement of the situation to date, said to have been made by a high Japanese official at Tokio. The first Russian squadron is commonly supposed to have entered Kamranh Bay on April 12 and to have left on the 22nd. This stay of ten days would constitute a gross violation of neutrality, but the Japanese official quoted takes no account of what happened prior to the 22nd. He says:

"The governor-general of Indo-China officially reported that the Russian fleet had entirely departed on April 22, but on April 23 there still remained in the bay one cruiser, one torpedo boat destroyer and fifteen transports from the Russian fleet. April 24 the entire Russian fleet re-entered Kamranh bay and took coal the next day. April 26, when a majority of the warships sailed, leaving behind four converted cruisers and one torpedo boat destroyer. These latter vessels took supplies of coal and provisions. On April 26, toward evening, these vessels stopped and examined the German steamer Loo Sok and the Norwegian steamer Providence, which passed outside of the bay. On April 27 more than thirty Russian vessels were anchored at Honkohe and about noon in the afternoon they stopped and examined the British steamer Haitin which was passing."

If these charges are true—and the news reports affirming them have been accepted by the world—they show beyond doubt that France is actively helping the Russians, and that in accordance with the terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty Japan would be justified in demanding the active aid of Great Britain. It is absurd to suppose that Rojestvensky would remain if he had been flatly ordered to leave by the French authorities, so it is plain that de Lanouieres' orders have been a mere bluff.

The Japanese are a patient people, but the French would do well to remember the old adage, "Beware of the anger of a patient man." In this case it would be not merely the wrath of the Japanese but that of their allies, the British, forced against their will into a world-wide war.

The New York Sun swells with pride because the city has 155 miles of water front. That's nothing. Some of those Kansas towns in the web-foot district spend the month of June every year with not only their fronts but their rears, sides and upper stories covered with water.

An European nobleman has given an interview in which he criticises Americans for their "mad rush for dollars." If anybody can rush for dollars any faster than a bankrupt European nobleman in search of a rich wife it would be interesting to see him.

There is a lesson in the untimely death of Herbert Croker of no little importance to the young men who think it necessary to "go the pace." And the lesson is so plain that it doesn't even need to be pointed out.

Count Cassini says that he parts from America with sincere regret. America would have to indulge in the Cassini brand of diplomatic prevarication to be able to say the same thing about the testy Count.

Young Jesse James has been arrested for usury. At least he is a degree better than his distinguished parent, who wasn't in the habit of giving anything at all in return for the money he took.

It is said that a New York man who sued Tom Lawson for $25,000 has just paid him $11,000 to drop the thing. Mr. Lawson ought to be president of a life insurance company.

VERSE OF A DAY

By HENRY CHRISTEEN WARDLACK.

ONE RECIPE.

Content to follow day by day
My life's appointed way,
Glad in each duty done,
Glad in each respite won,
And life for me is sweet.

By day a few free hours
To walk among the flowers,
With leisure in the night
To learn one star's delight—
So is my life complete.

THE PLAINS AT NIGHT.

Wild, weary western waste,
White swooning world of snow,
The listless moon's pale drifting
The high wind's ceaseless blow
The solitary plains at night,
White mountains skirting leaden rim;
A camp's smoke trailing just in sight,
The world receding, gray and dim.

The gray wolf's call, the coyote's cry,
The stinging blast, the sullen sky,
Roll ceaseless winds o'er trackless plains
With ocean moan and tempest sigh,
While darkness, surging like the sea,
Comes throbbing over earth and me.

TWILIGHT MURMURS.

I can hear them calling, calling,
Voices of the long ago
Tender voices at the doorstep
Of the home I used to know.
Children's voices in the twilight—
(Oh, my aching heart how sweet!)
Children laughing in the starlight,
Childish babble in the street.

Through the care of years still ringing—
Voices of the dear, dead past,
Little people at the old games
Of a youth that could not last.
Calling, calling! oh, my playmates!
Oh, those magic days of yore!
But the glooming silence answers,
Lost to me forever more.

EAST AND WEST.

In the East the sunny gardens
Where the roses—rare, complete—
Bloom in copious, tangled masses
With a fragrance far more sweet
Than the honey of the clover;
In the West the scar mesquite
And this one poor cactus blossom,
Springing idly at my feet.

IRRIGATION IN LA PLATA COUNTY.

Work on the government reservoir and canal which is to water between 70,000 and 80,000 acres of land in La Plata county, has been resumed. Work was suspended last winter because of the heavy snow. It is estimated that the work will cost about $30 an acre of land to be watered, and an effort will be made to induce the secretary of the interior to bring the lands of the San Juan river, about 100,000 acres, under this irrigation system. This would very materially lessen the cost per acre. The water will be taken from the Animas river above Animas City, and carried through Durango, around the side of Smelter mountain, and conveyed by means of a tunnel two miles long through the divide in the La Plata valley.—Mancos Times.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Whether or not the country needs public ownership of public utilities, it certainly does need public ownership of public officials.—Cheyenne Wells Republican.

THE VAST LIFE INSURANCE POWER

Total Assets of 31 Companies.....$2,399,912,074
Total Money in Circulation in U. S....$2,558,992,983

TO THE vast majority of men the word "insurance" has meant a persistent and persuasive agent, a medical examination, a yearly premium—one of those things which come around with deadly regularity and which must be paid whether the butcher is or not—and with a sense of security that if the worst happens wife and babies will have some protection.

In the last two or three years there has however, gradually developed a consciousness of the tremendous, something vast, mysterious, overwhelming. We are beginning to ask what that power is. Perhaps a few plain facts will enable us to give the right answer. Here they are:

The total assets of thirty-one life insurance companies of the United States amount to $2,399,912,074.

Compare that sum with the total circulation of money in the country—$2,558,992,983. The assets of all the national banks in this city are only $1,459,[illegible]. The assessed valuation of all the real estate in New York city, $5,015,463,779, is but twice the amount of the life insurance assets.

Moreover these assets are increasing by a [illegible] ratio. In 1890 they amounted to $592,749,427, in 1895 to $1,[illegible], 58,658,126. They have doubled in ten years and increased 512 per cent in a quarter of a century. The estimated wealth of the United States in twenty-five years has increased 146 per cent so that the insurance power is growing faster than the country itself.

Take some of the big items that make up this great aggregate of assets. The insurance companies own $167,966,115 worth of real estate. Their investments in stocks and bonds amount to $1,216,-865,128, a sum equal to more than six per cent of the par value of all the securities admitted to dealings in the New York stock exchange. Their loans on real estate mortgages are $640,813,-841, and on collaterals, $40,707,702.

Some Amazing Totals.

The income of the insurance companies in 1904 was $560,172,653. In rain or shine, in prosperity or panic, in "tight money" and in times of ease, more than 1½ million dollars pours into the treasury of the life insurance companies every day. The very last thing that a man defaults on is his insurance policy. The insurance companies have the revenue of an empire. The yearly income of the United States government, including postal receipts, amounts to $664,214,373, deducting the postal receipts the revenue of the government is about equal to the life insurance income.

Their expense of management—$116,-907,390—is actually larger than the yearly cost of our expenditures during the last fiscal year for the military establishment, including river and harbors, forts, arsenals and seacoast defenses.

Almost beyond human conception is the total of "life insurance in force." The figures are $11,487,960,263, or equal to considerably more than one-tenth of the wealth of the country. There are now four companies, the Mutual, the Equitable, the New York and the Metropolitan, whose insurance in force exceeds one billion dollars, and one of these, the New York, now boasts of nearly two billions.

This brings us face to face with the fact of concentration in insurance. More than 55 per cent of all the insurance in force is carried by these four companies. But the concentration is shown in a more remarkable way by limiting inquiries to the "big three" in life insurance, the Mutual, the Equitable and the New York.

More than one-half the total assets, or, to be more definite, $1,242,731,112, is owned by these three companies. More important still, their assets are growing more rapidly than all the others. In the last ten years they have increased 127 per cent, while the rest of the companies have increased 86 per cent. One of the three has grown 147 per cent.

Nature of Their Assets.

The stock investments of the "big three" amount to $755,823,200. The stock and bond investments of the national banks in the United States are $642,-776,843, or 113 million dollars less. The assessed value of all the "personal property" in the state of New York is 59 million dollars below the securities investments of these three companies.

They own real estate valued at $84,-[illegible],747, including buildings in London, Paris, Berlin, New York and Mexico. Their real estate loans amount to $205,-246,797, and their collateral loans to $22,-587,202, while their cash on deposit in banks and trust companies amounts to $56,584,985. They are, therefore, a vital, almost controlling, force in the real estate, the money and the investment markets.

It has been estimated that the investments of all the insurance companies aggregate upward of 200 million dollars a year, fully one-half of which is made by the three biggest companies. Try to conceive of a power of investment reaching upward 100 million dollars a year! That is something mightier than even Standard Oil.

The yearly income of these three companies is $256,979,871, nearly as much as the entire revenue obtained by the United States from custom receipts, which in the last fiscal year were $261,-274,664. Lump all the custom houses together, therefore, and all the money they receive in a single year is not much more than pours into the coffers of these three great companies.

Think of it for a moment—their income is larger than the revenue of Spain! It is double those of Belgium and four times those of China. They are great owners of government securities and their influence is felt far and wide in international finance. The salaries paid by these companies to their employes are almost as much as the entire yearly budget of the kingdom of Greece. They pay their agents in commissions the sum of nearly 27 million dollars.

Community of Interests.

Moreover, while in one sense competitors, there is a large community of interest between the three companies. In some things they are moved by a common impulse. Some of them, the Mutual [illegible] and one-third of the capital stock of the National Bank of Commerce in New York, which, with one exception, is the greatest and most powerful bank in the country.

Note it is this community of interest, this concentration in assets and business, that there is a corresponding concentration in control.

Naturally the life insurance companies are types of almost ideal democracy in business. It is true that one of the big three, the Equitable, has had its 40 million dollars of assets controlled by $100,000 of stock, but this is soon to be changed. Nearly all of the others are entirely mutual, that is to say, they are in theory owned and controlled by their policy holders, to whom, in actual practice, all the revenues go over and above the cost of management and the addition to the surplus fund necessary for their protection. The $11,487,960,263 of insurance in force is divided into 11,[illegible],463 different policies. Said if each policy represents one person, there is one policy on an average for every family in the United States, and each policy has in theory a voice in the management and control of insurance.

In fact, however, life insurance is controlled by a self-perpetuating autocracy.

How is this effected?

By the proxy.

The policy holder transfers by proxy his right to vote to another person, sometimes the president, sometimes a general agent, nearly always another officer or director of the company, and thus power is easily retained in the same hands, and when they retire is transmitted to successors whom they choose. Even under the admirable system adopted by the Northwestern company, which permits no officer or director to accept a proxy, nor any person to vote more than a certain limited number of proxies, it is not difficult to maintain authority in the hands of the same officials year after year.

Who will dispute the economic wisdom of this autocratic control? Insurance is an intricate, a difficult business. Competent actuaries do not grow on every bush. The executive ability to act as trustee for millions is rare. It is right than men trained to this business should control it.

But see the power they wield!

Control of the Financial World.

The facts already recited tell only half the story. The insurance companies not only by the investments they make—the money they loan or put on deposit and the real estate they own, but even more by the other business they control, exercise a financial power the scope of which is scarcely realized even by those who may come in contact with it every day. Two years ago the insurance companies of the United States owned more than 700 million dollars of railroad stocks and bonds—nearly six per cent of the entire railroad capitalization of the country. Their power among the railroads in manifest.

They owned 64 million dollars of bank and trust company stock. In this fact is discovered one of the great problems involved in the life insurance expansion. It is leading to the creation of chains or groups of banking power so vast as to be almost beyond conception.

The extent to which the insurance companies are going into the banking business is but little comprehended even at this time, when the calcium light of publicity is being thrown upon them. Here are a few striking illustrations. The Prudential, the great industrial insurance company of Newark, owns $450,000 of the stock of the Fidelity Trust company and $450,000 of the stock of the Union National bank.

The Metropolitan Insurance company, another great industrial insurance concern, owns stock in seven trust companies, and four banks in New York, Brooklyn, Newark and Burlington, Vt. But we are chiefly interested now in the "big three"—the Mutual, the Equitable and the New York. The New York owns great blocks of bonds, including many collaterals, but it owns no stock.

While there are no bank stocks on its list of investments, its president, John A. McCall, is a director in the National City and First National banks, two of the three greatest banks of the country, as well as in several trust companies, while its vice president, George W. Perkins, is a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co.

The Mutual Life Insurance company owns stock in seven banks and fourteen trust companies situated in several cities.

The Equitable Life owns stock in nine banks and nine trust companies.

These two companies, as has already been said, control the Bank of Commerce, and this insurance chain of banking institutions includes, besides the Bank of Commerce, the Mercantile Trust, the Guaranty Trust, the Morton Trust, the United States Mortgage and Trust and the Equitable Trust, with interests in the First National bank, of Chicago, the American Exchange of New York and other important banks. Vice President Hyde, of the Equitable, is a director in over forty corporations, including four banks located in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Denver, San Francisco and Pittsburg. President McCurdy, of the Mutual, is a director in fifteen institutions, including banks and trust companies in New York, Philadelphia, Providence and New Jersey.

Now, it does not necessarily follow that, because this concentration has taken place and this power exists, the concentration is economically unsound or the power is abused. The facts given are stated merely as facts, without prejudice or hostility of any kind. The facts of this insurance power are given because they present one of the momentous financial problems of the time.

Here, then, is the insurance power. Already its growth is marvelous and apparently its capacity to absorb and expand is without limit, commanded as it is by men of the highest order of business administrative ability.

The question is: What shall we do with it?—Kansas City Star.

PHOTOGRAPHING THE POPE.

A London photographer has been invited to Rome in order to photograph the pope. One of the great rooms in the Vatican was given to him as a studio, and at half past eight in the morning the pope came to him for his sitting. While he was standing in position, His Holiness smiled, and the photographer, repeating that old formula which we have all so often heard, "Oh, if you would keep that pleasant expression for a moment!" made the pope roar with laughter.

"Too bad, too bad!" he said, "don't I always look pleasant?"

Mr. Histed gave a very interesting account of that interview. He asked the pope to put himself in the attitude of pronouncing a blessing, and, said the artist in photographs, "a marvellous change came over him, the man vanished, the pope—the great father of the people—appeared; his face wore a look of wonderful love and power. I could never have believed that any human being could become so instantly transformed."—Lady Henry Somerset.

INSURANCE COMPANIES MUST REPAIR DAMAGE BY FIRE

Captain De La Vergne Reaches Agreement on New York Cash Store Fire Loss on This Basis---Amount Is Not Estimated by Either Party.

It required Captain George De La Vergne less than an hour to settle with the insurance adjusters for the fire loss May 4 to Nos. 120-122 South Tejon street owned by him and occupied by Samuel D. McCracken's New York Cash store. The terms of settlement require the insurance companies to repair the building and make it equal to its former condition

Captain De La Vergne arrived in this city yesterday from Los Angeles and a few minutes after meeting with the representatives of the insurance companies he arrived at a satisfactory basis of settlement

Just how large was the damage to the building none of the people interested attempted to estimate. It was agreed by the insurance men that the companies carrying the risk on the building would share the expense of placing it in a state of repair that would be satisfactory both to Captain De La Vergne and his tenant, Mr. McCracken

This was accepted by Captain De La Vergne who will at once let contracts for remodeling the structure. It will have metal ceiling and will be repointed and repapered throughout. Work will begin at once. The cost of this work will closely approach $10,000. The building was valued at $40,000 and was insured for $25,000

Just how soon the adjusters will complete their invoice of the damaged New York Cash store stock is problematical. Perhaps another week or ten days of persistent labor will find them near the end of the tedious task. Mr. McCracken says that no one can give any adequate estimate of the total loss at this time

GRAVE CHARGES CONTAINED IN DIRECT INFORMATIONS FILED

District Attorney C. C. Hamlin yesterday filed direct informations in the district court as follows

Mike Reardon, charged with assault with intent to steal from W. E. Ivey and M. W. Mullen on the night of October 16, 1904. It is alleged that Reardon entered the store of M. W. Mullen on the night in question with a mask over his face and held up the proprietor and customers in the store on North Tejon street and later attempted to hold up other stores

Arthur Flannegan, charged with forgery on February 18, 1905. It is alleged that Flannegan secured blank checks belonging to Fred Engel and made two of them payable to George Freeman, for $30 each. The checks were drawn on the El Paso National bank, but one of them was cashed by Alex Reibscheid and the other by Ben Rosenburg. Goods were purchased at each store and Flannegan received the change from the forged checks.

Eric I. W. Wallace for obtaining money under false pretenses. It is alleged by the prosecution that Wallace secured $50 from G. A. C. Duet on January 17 1905 by misrepresentation

Charles A. Becker charged with assault with intent to murder. On February 21 1905 it is alleged, Becker pulled a revolver and threatened to kill Maud Becker during trouble over household matters.

Wm. H. Cokely false pretenses. It is charged that Cokely secured $300 from Mrs. Emma A. Powell on November 12, 1904 by means of fraud, claiming to own certain property to which he had no title.

Logue Vickers charged with criminally assaulting Maude Higgins, a girl under the age of 18 years, on December 17 1904

All of the prisoners will be arraigned in the criminal division of the district court next Monday, but their cases will be set for trial by Judge L. W. Cunningham tomorrow.

ROSWELL ENJOYS BUILDING BOOM

ERA OF ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE HAS SET IN AND ANY WEIGHT BUSINESS IS BEING BENEFITED.

Roswell is on the boom During the last few weeks, considerable activity has been experienced both in real estate and in building While some of this activity is due to announcement made by the Monument Park Cemetery association that a street railway is to be built connecting the proposed cemetery with the northern part of Colorado Springs, much of it is due to generally improved conditions.

The Roswell Town and Land company which was organized a number of years ago and in which J. A. Hayes, J. J. Hagerman, Mrs. J. G. Shields, L. R. Ehrich and the Davie Realty company are interested, has recently closed some important deals for blocks of land in Roswell. The company has sold to John N. Eklund block 7, of the Roswell City addition for a consideration of $2,000. Mr. Eklund will erect a number of small residences on the property. The company has also sold 4 lots in block 8 to R. F. Johnson for a consideration of $800. There has been considerable building in Roswell of late.

MRS. JESSIE E. TRASK GETS DIVORCE

AFTER INTRODUCTION OF SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY.

Mrs. Jessie E. Trask yesterday secured a decree of divorce from Dr. Harlan A. Trask in the county court upon the grounds of cruelty and non-support The testimony given in the case was highly sensational. Mrs. Trask told of the conviction of her husband upon a charge of larceny, of his former cruelty to her and how she had been obliged to rely upon funds sent her from home for the support of both herself and husband until she became convinced of his infidelity. The couple were married on August 20 1900 and since that time, witness testified, Dr. Trask had repeatedly thrown dishes and other articles at her

Although Dr. Trask was not present he was represented by Attorney N. M. Campbell, who made a strong fight for his client and vigorously cross-examined the witness.

Another divorce case that received the attention of the county court yesterday was that of Sarah E. Snodgrass vs. Willie B. Snodgrass the jury returning a verdict for the plaintiff finding the defendant guilty of non-support and the decree was at once signed by Judge Kerr. The parties were married at West Creek, Colo. on October 29 1896

Judge Robert Kerr yesterday ordered the sheriff to prepare a special venire of 12 talesmen to report May 16 in order to fill out the regular panel

In the probate division of the county court the final report in the estate of J. C. Woodbury was approved and in the matter of the estate of Wm. Sterner claims amounting to about $1,[illegible] were allowed

Judge Seeds will hold a session of the district court at Castle Rock today for the purpose of trying the Victor riot cases transferred from Teller county. It is expected that the cases will be nolled

BRICKS BONES IN ATTORNEY'S ARM

CLASH BETWEEN ROLLA S. ZIMMERMAN AND GEORGE GARDNER ARISES OVER MRS. ZIMMERMAN'S DIVORCE SUIT.

"You know that I am unable to pay alimony to the extent of $3,000 and in fact am unable to pay attorney fees so why did you advise my wife to sue me for the sum of $3,000 alimony?"

The above was, in substance, the question asked by Rolla S. Zimmerman of Attorney George Gardner after he had been served with a summons in a divorce complaint filed against him by his wife in the district court yesterday morning.

"I decline to discuss the case with you here," was the answer given by Mr. Gardner, it is said, and thereupon Mr. Zimmerman seized the attorney by the left wrist and gave him a sudden twist which resulted in a fracture of the bones of the forearm. Mr. Zimmerman then hurriedly left the attorney's office and passed two men who were attracted by the calls of the injured attorney, and they summoned Dr. Horn who reset the broken bones.

Attorney Gardner later sued out a warrant against his assailant charging him with mayhem on which he was arrested later by Constable Larrabee and Justice Ruby fixed his bond at $1,000 for appearance in court tomorrow.

The encounter between the attorney and Mr. Zimmerman was the sequence of a suit for divorce filed by Attorney Gardner for Mrs. Jennie Zimmerman in which the plaintiff alleged non-support and asked for $3,000 alimony.

Mr. Zimmerman says he went up to have a friendly talk with Mr. Gardner in his office but the latter would not hear him and attempted to push him out with force

EASTERN MARKETS

Stocks and Bonds. Grain and Provisions.

NEW YORK STOCKS ADVANCE AND STAGNATION FOLLOWS

St. Paul Ran Up Two Points but Close Was Dull and Heavy in Spite of Dividend Rumors---Bonds Were Irregular---Small Movement of Grain.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The [illegible] advance today on the stock exchange [illegible] A striking feature of the market was [illegible] the high level [illegible] the close of the market was lost in the confusion [illegible] of weak speculative [illegible] complete [illegible] that it would be [illegible] out fringing out [illegible] supportable burden of offerings.

Confidence Is Felt

Very general confidence was felt in the soundness of the business and financial structure [illegible] sufficient supplies in the money market for the needs of the immediate future. There are some suggestions of disapproval on the part of the important banking and money powers of any active speculation at this time or any sudden and violent movement of prices. But this did not make itself evident today in any opposition to the advance.

Dividend Rumors Advance Prices

Some obstacles were met during the early part of the day but they were resisted and ultimately overcome. The most notable of these was the selling for London account, left-over liquidation following the settlement making itself felt again in that market. But this influence proved less effective than the comprehensive revival of a full line of merger and dividend increase rumors, which have served the purpose of advancing prices several times already.

Burlington Purchase Bonds.

Those bearing on the Northern Securities adjustment were especially prominent and there was added to them the new suggestion of a proposed retirement of the Burlington purchase bonds by an issue of new stock by the holding companies. Amongst the industrials, old rumors of combination were revived by the news of a plan for the absorption of the rubber goods company, the U. S. Rubber company and by the wide scope disclosed in the organization of the new American Smelter Securities company.

Bond Market Is Low.

It was assumed in some quarters that a growing investment demand for bonds could be detected, which was to be ascribed to the growing supply of capital seeking investment. But the fact is that the bond market is at present slow and inquiry made amongst bond dealers discloses that large portions of recent new issues are still in the hands of underwriters and are marketed with difficulty and in some cases at a discount.

The Journal of Commerce has traced the issuing of bonds since January 1 to a total value of upwards of $600,000,000 of these $486,000,000 was for refunding or market purposes but it is doubtful if even the output by railroads alone of new bonds for the first six half months was $2,000,000,000 [illegible] the full 12 months of 1904. The present sluggishness of the bond market find explanation in those facts.

Small Movement of Grain

Railroad officials reported most roads as having a surplus of cars now on hand partly due to the small movement of grain and to competition by the lake lines and also to large additions to the supplies of rolling stock.

The increases in value of April exports of agricultural products was regarded with satisfaction. Large payments to the sub treasury on account of government deposits by the banks left the money market unruffled and confidence in the continued ease of money is undisturbed. The advance in a number of public franchise stocks was at the expense of the short interest. The close was heavy in spite of the running up of St. Paul nearly two points near the finish.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $2,870,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

CORN MARKET STRONG BUT WHEAT SUFFERS A DECLINE

CHICAGO, May 15.—Weakness in the wheat market developed soon after the opening. Influenced by higher prices at Liverpool resulting from a considerable decrease in the world's shipments, initial quotations here for July were in some cases half a cent higher at 88. Almost immediately, however, prices experienced a severe set back on profit taking by small holders. July sold off to 88⅝. The decline was in turn succeeded by almost as sharp a reaction which carried prices back to about the highest point at the opening. The upturn had its inception at Minneapolis where May wheat showed five cents gain and July over two cents.

Northwestern Market Stiong

The strength in the northwestern market was attributed to flood conditions in the Red river valley. Weather officials, however, forecast clear skies for tomorrow. Prospects of improved weather conditions started renewed selling of July. As a result the price again sagged off. A feature of trading was increased business in the September option. The market closed weak with prices near the lowest point of the day, final quotations on July being at 87½@87¾.

Corn Sentiment Bullish

Sentiment in the corn pit was decidedly bullish as a result of the decrease of nearly 2,000,000 bushels in the visible supply. Stocks in Chicago also were active factors during the greater part of the day. The market closed at the highest point of the session, July at 48.

A heavy decrease in the visible supply was the principal influence in the oats market. Strength of corn had a considerable influence. Trading was very quiet and the price range for the future days was [illegible] at 30@30¼.

Net cattle receipts amounted to 10 to 15 cents in the price of live hogs, a firm tone prevailed in the provisions market. The cause of the firmness was fair demand from packers for pork and lard. The advance in corn also exerted some effect. The close was 5@10 higher for pork, lard was 2½ up and ribs were a shade higher.

TELLURIDE MILL SOON TO RESUME

NEGOTIATIONS ARE AT STANDSTILL, PENDING RETURN OF TRUSTEE DUNCAN CHISHOLM

That the Telluride mill will shortly be again in the hands of a receiver is certain. Until he returns and will be operated [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible].

The [illegible] trustee for the [illegible] General Metals company of New York which operated the Telluride mill until last September is at Salt Lake City where he will remain until the latter part of this week. Pending his return negotiations for the Telluride mill are at a standstill.

There is no better [illegible] in the current gossip [illegible] statement that Byron M. Cole, [illegible] for the Golden Cycle company, has made a bid for the Telluride mill. [illegible] Yet the story is probably true. Before the mill discontinued business the Golden Cycle people found it convenient for [illegible] purposes. For a year it handled [illegible] of their Cripple Creek ore. That it should continue to do so would be natural [illegible] the property [illegible] of hell at a price that would make it profitable. At present the Golden Cycle [illegible] smelted by the different [illegible]. That which comes [illegible] goes to the United [illegible] smelting company.

For a time [illegible] thought most [illegible] that the stockholders in the defunct General Metals [illegible] effect a reorganization [illegible] desired to buy the mill and operate it independently. While a gentleman from New York appeared a few days ago [illegible] to buy the mill [illegible] he represented [illegible] capitalists. However, when he learned that Trustee Chisholm would consider a bid under $20,000 he is said to have returned to [illegible].

SMUGGLER MILL PROVES A GAIN

FIRE NOW UNDER CONTROL AND OPERATIONS CAN BE RESUMED IN ALL LEVELS

ASPEN, May 14.—Arrangements are now in order for the starting of the old zinc mill which has been idle for the past year. The Smuggler is at the present time taking out large quantities of zinc ore and is now being stored on the siding of the mill. There is a sufficient quantity of ore now on hand to warrant the starting of the mill and from the present indications the mill will be in continuous operation. This news is most cheering for Aspen people and a hard blow for the knockers and their little hatchets. These improvements and increase of the output of the Smuggler tell the story that Superintendent Willcox is making a success of the property, notwithstanding the many drawbacks he has had to contend with. The fire is now under control so that the gas does not interfere in the working of any of the levels and the force of workmen is steadily being increased. Those on the inside predict that the Smuggler will, ere long take its former position among the Aspen mines and this condition is due to the efforts of Superintendent Wilcox and Manager Cohn who had the foresight to secure the services of Mr. Wilcox.—Aspen Democrat.

WILL INCREASE [illegible]

CALFY AND ASSOCIATES TO ENLARGE CYANIDE PLANT ON THE SANTA RITA PROPERTY.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 15.—Such is the encouragement obtained by Calfy and associates, lessees, in their operation of the Santa Rita mill that they have arranged for a six fold increase in its capacity. This will permit of the treating of 60 tons of ore daily.

[illegible] lessees [illegible] Cyanide material [illegible] be hoisted in the old stopes [illegible] ranging from $6 to $12 worth of gold to the ton it was not of a quality that interested other operators whose goal was one of three to ten times [illegible] Thus they cast aside what promises to yield many bricks having a total value of upward of $100,000.

The success mill was in successful operation when transferred to Calfy and associates by the previous operators. The experiments of the Calfy crowd raised the percentage of extraction by several notches and resulted in the production of several gold bricks and although the latter were of modest dimensions they were of a size that demonstrated the success of the plant and that suggested bigger returns from a bigger plant which they are preparing to erect.

As compared with the one broker and the greater quantity unbroken the cost of the mill to be erected will be small. It will be possible to have it in operation within two months.

LESSEES SHIPPING ORE FROM THE AJAX

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 15.—Lessees are now shipping ore from the Ajax [illegible] Cripple Creek district. The shipments will vary in value from two to six feet and widths from [illegible] inches. Shipments average $30 in gold to the ton and of such material 100 tons is being the mine monthly, a considerable part thereof being contributed by the company.

Prospection is steadily proceeding on company account and with encouraging results. Like nearly every other mine of the district there has been more or less annoyance from water. There is hardly enough to pump and more than enough to bail. However, it causes little inconvenience.

GOOD ORE SHOOT IN THE TRACHYTE

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 15.—Preparations are to go to market are being made by Baird & Co., lessees, who recently began work on the first and second levels of the Trachyte mine of Bull hill. They have opened the shoot, one of liberal surrender at other points in the property, and are hoisting its contents to the bins.

Having a width of four feet the body is of substantial metallic content, especially the screenings which assay almost to the $60 point. It is calculated that a carload a week of both screenings and coarse rock may be mined and marketed. The property belongs to the United Gold Mines company and was for a year or longer a heavy contributor to the stream of gold that flowed from the several mines of this corporation.
